

Reminder: You can still reach us
by phone for a consultation over the phone.

For English: (312) 379-9579

For Spanish: (312) 508-3490

What can a phone consultation be about?

- Activity ideas for what to do with your children while at home
- Creating a Social Story that is specifically for your child. We can e-mail you this as a PDF.
- General IEP questions and concerns.
- Strategies to navigate through challenging behavior while at home.
- Finding resources and referrals.

Sincerely,

The RCADD Staff

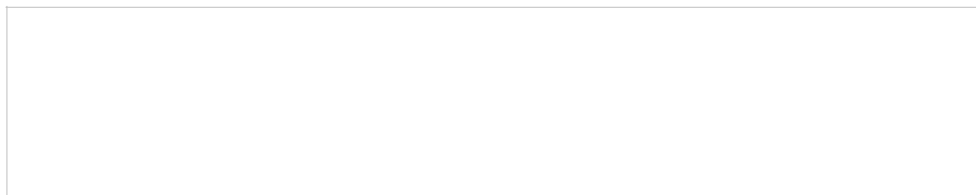

Don't forget, we have social stories available for download that can help during this time.

We know that individuals with autism have difficulty with change in routines and handling unexpected situations. At RCADD, we decided to be proactive and create social stories that can help a child who may have to stay home when they are sick or whose school may close. We also created a social story that helps with healthy choices, such as washing hands and not touching their faces.

Please keep in mind that while the center is open, you can always call us to schedule an appointment to create either of these social stories if you do not have access to a printer or laminating machine!

Files are saved as PDFs. You need a PDF reader to open and view. You will be unable to make any changes to the file.*

Need a social story that is more specific?

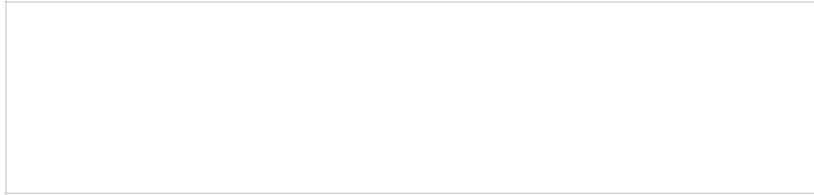

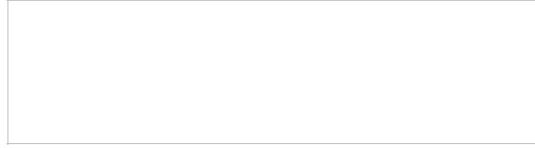

Call us and we can make one that fits your child's needs. We can then email it to you!

Adapted Books Available for Download

To assemble:

Cut each page in half and then staple on the left side.
If you do not have access to a laminating machine, you can use as cut out and glue activity.

Don't have a printer? Chat with us and we can help come up with other structured activities, no printer necessary!
